Pupil Shift Averts Twin Sessions Here

'Approximately 90' Students to Attend Cahulla School

School district officials today short-circuited a threat of double sessions by shunting students from one elementary school to another outside their residential district.

Schools Supt. Dwight Twist announced that pupils from the Country Club Estates subdivision will attend Cahulla School this fall instead of Cielo Vista School.

DR. TWIST SAID the transfer, affecting "no more than 90" students from kindergarten through fifth grade, was ordered to ease the heavy classroom burden of overcrowded Cielo Vista.

"This is the only alternative to double sessions (at Cielo Vista)," Dr. Twist explained.

"School board members and school administrators realize that this may prove to be an inconvenience to some parents," he added, "but it was felt to be necessary if the welfare of the children is to be given first consideration."

NORMALLY, YOUNGSTERS from the rapidly growing subdivision, located off East Ramona Road just beyond the city limits, would attend the Cielo Vista School within their district.

But heavy pre-school registration of new students substantiated predictions that Cielo Vista enrollment will soar past the 500-mark this fall.

Country Club Estates youngsters were transferred because they comprise the largest single group of students from any one comparatively compact area and because they would have to transfer next year anyhow — into their own elementary school.

DISTRICT CONSTRUCTION plans call for a new, $400,000 school smack in the center of the Country Club Estates development. School officials expect the new plant to be filled by youngsters from the development.

Meanwhile, a maximum of 90 See SCHOOL, Page 2

N.Y. Police Work On Own Time in Teen Gang Wars

NEW YORK (UPI) — Five hundred transit policemen, who patrol the city's subways, today stood ready to enter the fight against rising juvenile lawlessness on their own time and without pay.

Representatives of two transit police organizations told Mayor Robert Wagner Friday their men would be willing to pound beats to help regular police crack down on youth violence. Proposals for so-called citizens' "vigilante groups" have been turned down, but the transit patrolmen are graduates of the Police Academy.

Police meanwhile sought a Puerto Rican youth who allegedly wielded a knife in a gang rape of a white woman early yesterday.

'Jekyll and Hyde'

New Psychiatric Exams for Dunn

Murder suspect Thomas Edward Dunn, labeled as a "Jekyll and Hyde" personality by his attorney, is today on his way to Beverly Hills for psychiatric tests to measure the degree of "violent disturbance" in his mind.

Dunn's attorney, Thurman Arnold Jr., said he has court permission to take the husky, 29-year-old ex-Marine from his jail cell for electro-encephalograph tests

IF DOGS COULD TALK, this pup would probably tell you "it's all in a day's work, for a dog." But Desert Hot Springs residents figure that Chris, a nine-month-old mongrel, is a genuine canine hero — she saved her three-year-old master from almost certain death by snakebite yesterday. Today, Chris, held here by hospital attendant Joyce Hopkin, is recuperating from a sidewinder bite that caused her snout to swell to twice its normal size. (Desert Sun Photo).

MONGREL SAVES TOT FROM SNAKE

DESERT HOT SPRINGS — She's just another "genuine mongrel," but Chris is all champion — and a hero to boot — in the eyes of this desert community today.

Chris, a shy, leggy nine-month-old pup, yesterday attacked a striking sidewinder to save her three-year-old master from almost certain death.

AND CHRIS, WHO forgot for a moment her dubious heritage, almost lost her own life in the bargain.

It happened when three-year-old Stephen Azzarello's brother, Sammy, 9, found a sidewinder coiled in the back yard of his home, 16-501 Via Quedo.

Sammy ran to get a shovel to kill the deadly invader, but Stephen toddled in with his dog and crawled up for a close look at the strange visitor.

THE COILED sidewinder struck at the curious youngster, but Chris was already leaping to the attack. She caught the snake's fangs on her snout.

As Chris recoiled from shock the snake struck again, this time striking young Stephen on the forehead — a wound which might have meant almost instant death — if Chris hadn't been there first.

An instant later, Stephen's mother, Mrs. Salvador Azzarello, rushed into the yard with Sammy's

Steel Strike Still Deadlocked

NEW YORK (UPI) — Steel contract negotiators today hold their first Saturday meeting since the start of the 60-day strike, apparently in response to President Eisenhower's admonition against "half-hearted bargaining."

But there was no sign of a break in their deadlock.

SUN STARTS NEW CARTOON TUESDAY

Want to take a daily trip down memory lane — in an out-of-step march?

Then start reading "That's the Story of My Life," which will make its debut in The Desert Sun next Tuesday.

IT'S A NEW cartoon panel, written by William Box, who is best known for his attack on conventional greeting cards five years ago with the introduction of Box cards. His kindly-caustic approach to the world of greeting cards has helped bring an about-face in the thinking of both the public and his competitors. He has been credited by national magazines with being the father of the type of greeting card known today as "Studio Cards."

Not content with a thriving greeting card business, he is now off on another crusade, that of defending the rights and pointing out the pitfalls of the misunderstood and sometimes lost American child — and the pen is a mighty weapon in the hands of a cartoonist as imaginative and creative as Box.

New Soviet Rocket Off On Moon Trip

Firing of Rocket Held 'Propaganda' For Nikita's Visit

MOSCOW (UPI) — The Soviet Union launched its second moon rocket today and timed it to reach its target the day before Premier Nikita Khrushchev arrives in the United States.

Radio Moscow announced the news of the "Cosmic rocket to the moon" in language that said it would "reach the moon" Monday.

THE LANGUAGE was not specific on whether the rocket would land on the moon or go into orbit around it. But it said that the rocket would release a cloud of sodium at 9:40 p.m. Moscow time (11:40 a.m. p.d.t.) today, making it look like a comet as it speeds through outer space.

There was no indication that the rocket carried any living passenger.

THE RUSSIANS SAID it would be seen in skies over Europe, the Middle East, India and parts of China, but not over the United States.

The latest Soviet space vehicle was launched as a multi-stage rocket. It bore a small pennant with the emblem of the U.S.S.R. and the inscription "September, 1959."

THE RADIO MOSCOW broadcast of the official Tass News Agency report of the launching said the rocket was expected to reach the moon at 12:05 a.m. Moscow time on Monday, Sept. 14. This would be 2:05 p.m. p.d.t. Sunday.

The Russian text said the rocket was going "K letter K Lune," which can be translated as either "to" or "towards" the moon.

It was evident the Soviets intended to make the most of the rocket's propaganda possibilities.

'Cancer Cure' Denied in Trial

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Mrs. Golda Franzen denied Friday that she ever claimed a so-called "audible sound machine" would have any effect on cancer.

Mrs. Franzen of San Francisco, is on trial in municipal court with Webster Billington of Santa Ana and Emerson B. Hartman of San Bernardino for advertising the machine as having an effect on cancer and for improperly labeling it.

Shotgun Blast Kills Alabama Klan Delegate

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (UPI) — A young restaurant owner, warned three times by the Ku Klux Klan to fire negro waiters, killed a reputed klansman early today with one blast from a shotgun, police said.

Detectives G. L. Arnette and E. L. Wright said James B. Peek Jr., 22, admitted shooting William C. Horton, about 38, in a rain-soaked parking lot of a shopping center.

Morton was a supervisor for the Alama Power Co. and the father of two children, ages one year and nine months. Sources said Horton was known to be a klansman.

Police said Peek would be charged with murder or manslaughter following interrogation. The detectives quoted Peek as saying he shot Horton when the victim pulled a gun on him.

The two men had argued earlier at Peek's place of business, known as Jimmy's Steak House, apparently over KKK stickers plastered on the front door of the cafe recently, officers said.

MILLER ASKS AID IN CRUSADE FOR SAFE DRIVING HERE

Palm Springs Safety Council President Don Miller pleaded with Villagers today to join with him in a crusade to wipe out needless accidents as thousands of children prepared to return to school here Monday.

Miller quoted National Safety Council figures that hold 2,500 children between ages five and 14 will die in the next 12 months in accidents.

He set forth a three-point program for curbing accidents here. He listed:

- 1—Set a proper example for school children.
- 2—Give youngsters proper instruction in new safety measures.
- 3—Take children on route to school bus stops and point out "danger spots" to them.

More Arrests Vowed on Blasts

LITTLE ROCK (UPI) — Police Chief Gene Smith said today that the Little Rock bombing case appears to be cleaned up with the arrest of five men. But he vowed that if further investigation involved more suspects he'd "make 50 arrests" if necessary.

Charges against the five men arrested in the case were filed late Friday by Pulaski County Prosecuting Attorney J. Frank Holt.

Senate Battles On Civil Rights

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Senate, driving for congressional adjournment Monday night, squared off today for a sharp, session-ending civil rights fight.

Deadlocked Senate-House conferees also planned to try again to work out their differences over legislation to authorize higher interest rates on government savings bonds, the other major barrier to adjournment. The negotiators were under strong pressure to compromise but a solution did not appear likely.

100-Degree Wave Envelopes L. A.

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Hot humid waves of air enveloped most of Southern California today, and readings of more than 100 were expected in many sections.

The high in downtown Los Angeles was 100. The top in the country was 103 at Los Angeles International Airport, where cooler readings usually result from ocean breezes.

Mother-to-Be Recovering From Gunman's Bullets

GLENDALE, Calif. (UPI) — Attendants at Glendale Memorial Hospital said today that a 20-year-old housewife who lost her unborn child when she was shot by a robber is doing "surprisingly well."

Sally Benson's husband, Kenneth, 26, killed the robber Friday night with three shots from his own .38 caliber revolver.

ASKED WHY NO fire administrative personnel was at the scene of the conflagration, officials here said Chief Bill Leonoso was contacted but told that even though it was a structural fire, "it was of minor nature."

A half hour after the blaze was brought under control, four off-duty firemen arrived at the scene and were dismissed to return to their home. Ritter told The Desert Sun today that the men had been called by the duty officer at the desk, who "apparently thought it was worse than it was," but added that he believed that there were enough men at the scene.

AT LEAST ONE city councilman, informed of the situation at last night's fire, said that she would ask for a "complete report" at Monday's luncheon meeting.

Head-On Collision Kills L.A. Woman

THOUSAND PALMS — A 48-year-old Los Angeles woman was killed this morning in a head-on crash on Highway 60-70-99 and three other persons were taken to Casita Hospital in Indio — one in very serious condition.

May Kashawer, wife of the driver of one of the cars was declared dead on arrival at the hospital shortly after 4 a.m. Her husband, Milton Kashawer, 56, was hospitalized.

Also hospitalized was Robert Baxter, 31, of San Bernardino, and his mother, Mrs. Alta Baxter, 70, who is in very serious condition.

The accident occurred about four-tenths of a mile west of Old School House Road at a new construction point where the Highway is being re-engineered at the joining of two-lane to four-lane pavement.

Miss America Selection Eyed

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J. — (UPI) — The 32nd Miss America contest goes into the home stretch today with the winner still as much in doubt as when the contest started last Monday.

In three nights of preliminary judging, the South's only victor was Miss District of Columbia, all the rest of the awards went solidly to the North and West. A Mississippi girl won last year.

Planners Eye 14 Matters For Desert

Blythe State Park
Tops Agenda for Tuesday Meeting

Riverside County Planning Commission will consider some 14 desert area items at their regular adjourned meeting next Tuesday in the County Court House.

The planners are expected to discuss a resolution of the County Association or Chamber of Commerce concerning the proposed state park at Blythe as well as hear a report on the Colorado River.

THE PLANNERS will also act on application from Gordon College of Indio for a plot plan in a C-P zone for a bowling alley on Highway 111 in that city, a letter from D. G. Brumwell concerning acquisition of 40 acres to be added to the College of the Desert site and hold a public hearing on a change of zone for D. Pascali and F. D. DeNapoli in the Cathedral City - Palm Desert area.

A hearing will also be held at 4 p.m. on an application from Huntington Park Traumatic Rehabilitation Service for a trail park in the Desert Hot Springs area. No hearing will be needed for a variance application by Gordon and Alice Altland for reduction of rear yard setback in the Cathedral City-Palm Desert area.

THE COMMISSION will act on three records of survey for the Desert Hot Springs Bank of America at the end of Dillon Road; for Steve Hoen, Angel Fabrics, Inc., in Desert Crest area; and for Leo Goodman and Louis Mattis for a subdivision at Sierra Blvd. and Dillon Road in Desert Hot Springs.

Tentative maps—both new and revised—that have been filed with the commission for action Tuesday include Cathedral Estates Unit No. 6, Palm Desert Estates No. 3 and Shadow Village.

Both the Palm Valley Estates and Hot Springs Heights subdivisions have asked planners for an extension of one year in which to file final maps.

STEPHEN WAS rushed to Desert Hospital by his mother and neighbors who witnessed the scene but were too far away to help; and Chris went to the Desert Animal Hospital.

Doctors said the dog had apparently absorbed almost all of the rattler's venom, so Stephen went home after emergency treatment.

Chris, her snout swollen to more than twice normal size, is still at the hospital today, but she's out of danger.

Maybe tomorrow she can go home for a welcome befitting a canine hero, though Chris probably figures it's all in a day's work for any boy's dog.

FIRE

Following the Desert Farmer's Market fire, City Manager Dan Wagner reported to the council that he was undertaking a completely new program for the Fire Department including a request that "no less than six firemen at any time"—including administrative personnel—be on the job.

ALTHOUGH THERE were seven men on duty last night, according to Harris, only four were at the scene of the fire. On arrival at the scene, a second truck was told to stand by at the downtown fire station.

The councilman said that it "would be interesting to learn why none of the administrative leadership of the department thought it necessary to attend the fire," and added that last night's performance "almost duplicates" the action of the department during the Farmer's Market blaze.

Studies Air-Conditioning

NEW ORLEANS (UPI)—A study at Charity Hospital here showed that most patients "were greatly benefited by air conditioning," which was "particularly important for the patient with heart disease."

Benjamin R. Ebersman, president of a firm (Mathes Co.) which manufactures air-conditioning equipment, said the study included 88 patients in an air-conditioned ward and 75 in a ward that wasn't.

Ebersman said "air conditioning eliminated sweating, fostered a calm and quiet atmosphere, improved morale of both patients and attending personnel, removed allergens from the environment and increased the tolerance of enforced bed rest."

As for cardiac patients, Ebersman said the heart did not have to work as hard in an air-conditioned room as it did when the atmosphere was warm and humid.

HOWARD MANOR STARTS 'SEASON'

The calendar said Sept. 11 yesterday but you'd never have known it in the Howard Manor.

Lewis and Sanchez, as polished an act as has played this Village, and Jack Kerns' orchestra, a band with a distinct hotel flavor, opened at the Jack Dempsey-Dave Margolis hostelry last night and the cries and applause of delighted patrons must still be ringing through the Manor Room this afternoon.

IT'S NOT A SUMMER booking, this new engagement at the Manor. It's a highly competitive mid-season sort of program that starts fast, finishes faster.

The stars of the show, quickly discerned, are drummer Syd Lewis and pianist Art Sanchez. At the outset of last night's opening, nary a one of the microphones would give forth more than a growl and this act relies heavily on the collaboration of voice to create their "big sound."

"Can you hear anything I'm saying?" pleaded Lewis. "Well, then we'll play some Dixieland." And they did.

LATER AFTER emergency repair work had restored the Manor's mikes to working order, the pair demonstrated the style that has made them one of the most sought-after acts in show business.

They identified quickly and easily with their new surroundings, tossed quips at Desert Sun Society Editor Hildy Crawford, at Palm Springs Real Estate Board President Don Cameron, at Manor General Manager Ernie Glaser and at a host of other well-known Villagers in the room.

They renamed a cha cha selection the "Howard Manor Cha Cha Cha"—much to the delight of the crowd—and continued to keep up a steady banter with the audience.

MUSICALLY, THE pair create a rather fantastic illusion. On "Quiet Village," the pair take the Les Baxter-Martin Denny trademark and fill it with the usual assortment of noises—this is a "quiet village"—in a manner that would indicate a dozen musicians at work. They did a double-edged version of "Dancing On the Ceiling," starting with a ballad presentation and winding up with a jazzlike interpretation.

Lewis threw the light switch on a "softshoe" selection that lit up his fluorescent-lit skimmer, collar and cuffs and the impact was instantaneous and complete.

SPELLING THE pair is a four-piece band that features the Kerns trumpet augmented by tenor sax, piano and drums. It's a pint-sized Freddy Martin sound that served to beautifully break the pace established by Lewis and Sanchez.

The Kerns group delivers requests by the dozens and also manages reasonably authentic Latin sound. Dancers at the Manor seemed tremendously impressed with the variety of musical fare dished up by the band.

IN SPITE OF the obvious difficulty experienced with the mikes, the combination act was grooving long before midnight and swelled the Howard Manor to near over-flow.

As noted at the start of this treatise, you could scarcely tell it was Sept. 11. G. L.

students, "and possibly less," will travel to Cahulla School. Sixth grade pupils from the estates will continue to attend Cielo Vista, Dr. Twist said.

School officials said also that new students from this area should go directly to Cahulla School for registration.

SCHOOL TRANSPORTATION Supervisor George Bond said that school buses will pick up the estates children at the same time as last year. Sixth graders will be dropped off at Cielo Vista and the rest will continue on to Cahulla.

Kindergarten children will be picked up at a later hour, however. Parents were advised to consult new bus schedules appearing elsewhere in today's Desert Sun for exact times.

"We are sorry that we do not have enough classrooms at this time," Dr. Twist remarked. "But the growth of the school district has been tremendous."

He added the comment that "we sincerely believe that parents would prefer to have slight inconveniences than have their children forced to attend half-day sessions."

CHAMBER DIRECTORS BACK CITY PURCHASE OF AIRPORT SITE

Palm Springs Chamber of Commerce directors this week backed acquisition of the Palm Springs Airport by the City of Palm Springs, provided the Indians vote to sell the property.

Under an Indian Equalization Bill now before President Eisenhower, the airport land may be sold to the city if the Agua Caliente Tribe so agrees, and the necessary funds are provided.

In the Chamber resolution, it was urged that if the City Council does request a bond issue, it is supported by the voters of Palm Springs.

Slayer Sought After Kill of Liquor Dealer

SANTA ANA UPI—Police yesterday captured a suspect in the fatal shooting last Saturday of a Firestone Park liquor store operator who had outgunned 12 would-be bandits in the last seven years.

He was identified as Charles Henry Clarence Matthews, 25, Houston, Tex., who had been living here with a brother-in-law in an apartment.

HE WAS PICKED UP on the basis of an all-points bulletin issued by the Los Angeles County Sheriff's Department.

Officer Francis Rawlin spotted Matthews in his car and directed him to the curb. Matthews surrendered without a fight and admitted participating in the liquor store holdup with two other Negro men in which Sidney Groch, 35, was killed.

A SECOND SUSPECT, James W. White, 31, was wounded by Groch and is in the Los Angeles General Hospital prison ward where he appeared voluntarily after the holdup. The remaining suspect, Ray E. Broadnet, was still sought.

Investigators said Matthews, who has an ear missing, was identified by a witness as the killer. He had no weapon other than a pocket knife when arrested and admitted getting $150 in the holdup.

League Meeting Is Postponed

A scheduled meeting of the special Sales Tax committee of the League of Riverside County Cities has been postponed from Friday until Sept. 18.

A place and time will be announced by the secretary of the league.

Aid Sought For Junior College Bonds

Officials Bid for Citizen Aid in Promoting Issue

PALM DESERT — Junior college officials today issued an appeal for volunteers to help promote the college district's forthcoming, $3,500,000 bond issue.

College President Roy McCall said the district Board of Trustees is organizing a citizen's advisory committee to aid programming and dissemination of information on the Oct. 13 bond election.

THE BOND ISSUE is designed to finance construction of the first six buildings for the new College of the Desert, tentatively programmed for opening in Sept., 1961.

Trustee William Cook was designated as chairman for the organization of the prospective citizen's committee. The committee will serve in an advisory capacity for the district building program and help promote the bond issue.

IN ADDITION, Dr. McCall reported that the district is accepting private contributions to finance advertising for the bond program.

School district funds cannot be used for such advertisements, he said.

Further information may be obtained by calling the Coachella Valley Junior College District's Palm Desert office at PT 6-6171.

Mr. and Mrs. Pa Shun Chang who were married in Yuma, Ariz., June 25 are at home at 17-312 North Indian Avenue. Mrs. Chang, the former Lillian Yao, is presently employed at the North Palm Springs Post Office. Mr. Chang, who was chancellor of the Chinese Embassy in Washington, D.C. for seven years, is now devoting his time to writing. He has published two successful books, "Until The Phoenix" and "Sky River" for which he won first award from the Boy's Club of America.

Howard Simmons, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Simmons, is home on leave from his Navy duties as apprentice fireman, following which he will report to the U.S.S. Bremerton in Long Beach. His brother, Arthur Simmons, graduated Sept. 9 from submarine training at New London, Conn.

MRS. BETTY ALLISON, left, business office supervisor for the Palm Springs District Office of California Water and Telephone Company, presents an award check to Mrs. Mary Holt, service representative, who is being given recognition on her suggestion for improving one of the business office forms.

MARY HOLT GAINS AWARD OF CW&TC

Because Mrs. Mary Holt, a service representative for California Water and Telephone Company, took her job seriously, she's a richer woman this week.

The firm announced today that Mrs. Holt had been awarded a check and official recognition for her part in up-dating and improving one of the standard business office forms.

MRS. HOLT, who lives at 30-376 San Antonio Drive with her husband, made the recommendation after discerning that certain adjustments in the form would increase efficiency of operation in standard office practice.

The award was presented by Mrs. Betty Allison, business office supervisor for the Palm Springs office of the CW&TC.

Dear Abby... by Abigail VanBuren

DEAR ABBY: I have been seeing a lot of a divorcee who has two kids, 3 and 5. She says she loves me and plans to marry me, but I sometimes wonder if maybe she isn't playing me for a sucker. Every Saturday she is off work and so am I. I take her kids out for pony rides and keep them the whole day. She never wants to come with us. She says she has something to do at home but when I bring the kids back she is never home. She makes the excuse that somebody always drops by and takes her somewhere. A few times I saw her get out of cars with different men. Am I being a sucker or not? What should I do?

OLDER MAN: If you take the kids out for pony rides while "Mamma" is hanging around, you are another kind of four-footed animal. A woman who cares enough for a man to marry him does not behave this way. Find out more about her or see less of her.

DEAR ABBY: In a doctor's office recently when I was asked to give my name to his nurse, I said, "MRS. JOHN JONES." The nurse went on to ask me questions about my husband and I said he was dead. She then said my name should be "MRS. JANE JONES." Will you please tell me which is correct?

IN DOUBT: A widow retains her husband's name for the rest of her natural life unless she remarries. Your legal signature should be "Jane Smith Jones" with the "Mrs. John Jones" in parenthesis after it. Like this:

DEAR ABBY: Have you ever heard of a 27-year-old man who gets mad and pouts and won't even tell you what he's mad about? That's my husband. I get so disgusted with him! When we go to someone's house for dinner and we don't eat at exactly six o'clock he gets ugly and won't say a word. Then he won't eat a thing no matter how hungry he is.

How do I handle him, Abby? I am sick of humoring him and apologizing for him. I have two children to raise but I am beginning to think of divorce. FED UP

DEAR FED: You have THREE children to raise. Your husband is operating on the emotional level of a 3-year-old. Don't "humor" him or try to gloss over his childishness. Tell him that if he wants to make a go of his marriage, he will have to start behaving like an adult. If he tries, but can't make the grade—he should seek professional help.

CONFIDENTIAL TO "THE BOSS": Now that you've got her out of your system—play it safe and get her out of your office.

Interest in Satellites Wanes AS Public Awaits Trip to the Moon

Several weeks ago something took place which would have been a world shaking event less than a year ago.

So fast has progress been in this special field, however, that this great accomplishment is all but forgotten by the very people who would once have been most overjoyed.

We refer to the recent successful launching into orbit of the "paddle wheel" satellite Explorer VI.

It is regularly revolving around the earth at a distance of as much as 26,000 miles to as little as 140 miles.

It contains a number of vital instruments providing almost constant reports of information on conditions encountered of great interest and importance to the scientific world and civilization generally.

It is the first satellite to utilize solar powered equipment and will in all probability continue to operate for a year or more, far surpassing all previous missiles in supplying data on weather, radiation, atmospheric and space conditions and problems as yet unknown.

The fact that it is scarcely ever mentioned in the press or given a thought by the man in the street demonstrates how far we have progressed since the grave nationwide concern caused by the firing of the first Russian satellite less than two years ago.

Now public interest is centering on things to come, not what we have already accomplished, as great an advance as it may be.

People are awaiting and thinking of the forthcoming "shot at the moon," the launching of a 75 ton space vehicle forecast soon, and the eventual first flight of man into outer space.

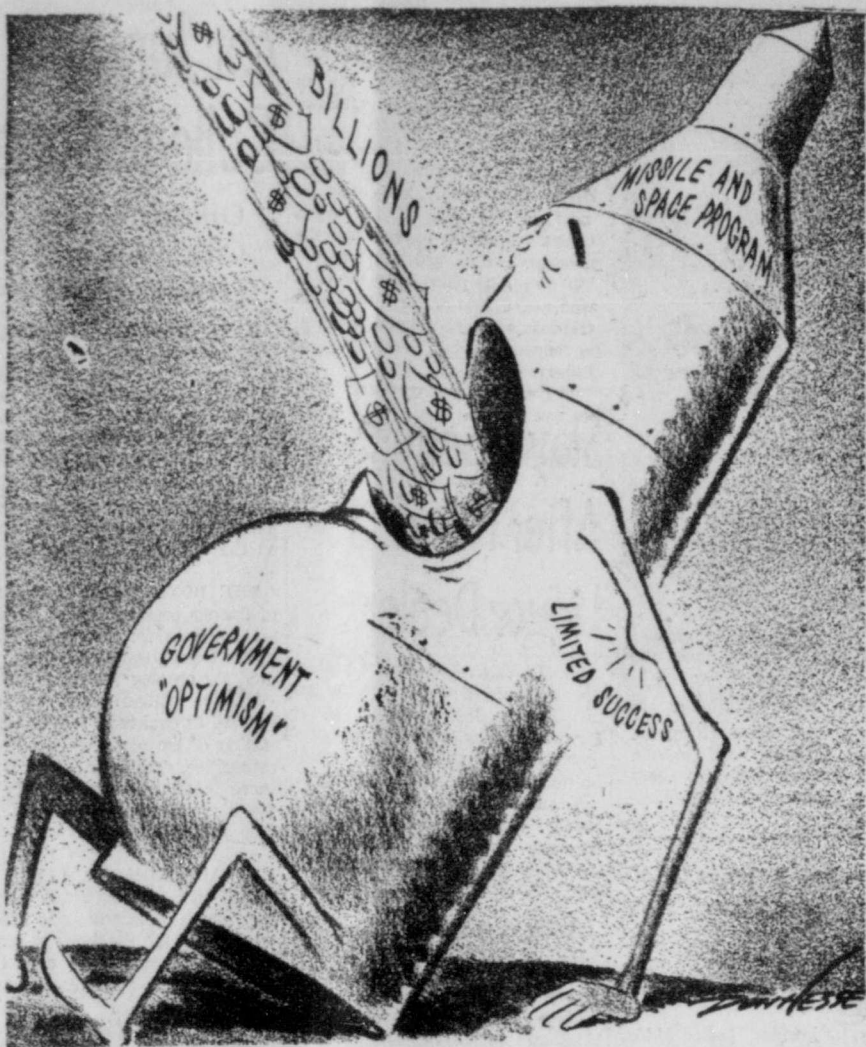

Ho—hum!

But, perhaps it is better thus, just so long as we keep looking and working towards new accomplishments and space achievements.

Let the scientists keep track of the various satellites we and others have in orbit. The schedule soon tends to become monotonous.

Just tell us in time not to miss that trip to the moon.

This Side of The Sun

Keep your eye on the road
And your foot on the brake,
School starts on Monday,
Don't goof, stay awake.

Final warning — the traffic situation is going to change come next week.

Hundreds of youngsters will be on the loose, coming from and going to school.

GEORGE BOND, transportation superintendent for the school system who has rolled up an enviable safety record, and his crew will bend every effort to maintain that fine record.

Chief of Police A. G. Kettmann and his traffic squad, will be on the job too, to do their share to protect the kids.

But both groups cannot be everywhere so it's up to you.

EXTRA CARE will be the need. Remember, these kids, a lot of them, aren't old enough to realize the seriousness of the situation.

They haven't had it beat into them by observation — and experience — that you can't trust anyone on the highways.

They don't remember to look both ways.

Palm Springs has been fortunate in the past in accidents involving school youngsters.

Let's keep it that way.

NOW FOR A few idle thoughts thoughts while figuring how to get to the bottom of the page without being smacked by a hit and run mixed metaphor or side-swiped by a split infinitive.

There is a perfectionist in town who insists that when people ask for that favorite pre-lunch mixture, they are wrong when they say:

"Gimme a martini!"

HE CLAIMS they should ask for a "martinus."

"Martinus is singular," he insisted. "Martini is plural."

Jimmy Rossio, daytime caterer to Village Thrifts at the Chi Chi, quickly settled that argument.

"Why, sure, martini is right," he said. "Who ever heard of having just one?"

ANOTHER THING that comes to mind has to do with cigarette vending machines.

Before Gov. Brown discovered that the state was diving into the red and the old scratch wasn't there to pay the bills, you plunked a quarter into a machine for your brand.

Then Edmund added a 3-cent tax. Now 25 plus 3 is 28. But you have to put in 30 cents to get results.

Since the vendors are making two extra cents above the tax, why couldn't they be nice and shoot forth a book of matches with every pack of cigarettes?

That's better than putting two pennies under the cellophane like they used to.

That you forgot and never received your change. It had rolled over the bureau.

HOWARD HADDOCK, Recreation Department superintendent, was with a foursome at the Ranch Club the other day. His group was held up frequently by the group ahead.

Finally Haddock got it. "Look," he said. "I know why that foursome ahead is so slow. There are five in that foursome."

STAN DELAPLANE'S Postcard

It seems only yesterday that I said farewell to the hallowed ivy halls of education. (Actually I do not remember any ivy on the walls. But it is a poetic thought.)

I stood there in my blue graduation suit. While a classmate spoke of the joys we were forsaking and would never forget. (He was a priggish teacher's pet and has probably done well. Flunking on his fellow workers.)

I TOOK THE diploma and departed. "And that's that," I thought.

Not so, Daddy-O. Not so. You are no sooner done with your own school but you must start your children's school.

I DON'T KNOW what we are in for this year. But my own child left me at long division where I went down for the third time. Last year she was in geometry. And I swear somebody has been rewriting Euclid. It is not the way I remember it.

We are back at school anyway. Even my 4-year-old son is involved in school affairs.

You think it is only a matter of buying them a couple of pencils and kissing their bright and shining faces? Think again. Think twice.

IT IS NOTHING but problems. This year our daughter is 16. It seems that ALL the 16-year-olds drive their own car pools to school!

"You mean they are going to turn these infants loose in REAL cars?"

That is exactly what they mean. They get in cars in the morning and take off like a lot of angels.

"You drove a car pool when you were 16. You said so yourself."

SO I DID. BUT that was a mistake to mention it. Such reminiscing comes back to haunt you. Anyway, what I drove was a Model-T that could not be pushed over a gasping 30-miles-per-hour.

"Such cars were safer," I said. "And there wasn't much traffic. Good grief, you kids will get out there and kill yourselves."

"Cars are safer. You said yourself your car didn't have any brakes."

"I DIDN'T SAY anything of the kind," (I think I did say so. That Model-T didn't have any brakes. But we had a cunning trick of slowing it down in low gear. Then we stepped on the reverse pedal. I remember another one: You slid one wheel against the curb and that slowed it down and —)

Enough of that. "You drive through the village, hear? I catch you on the highway, I will do something awful to you."

THAT IS THE kind of problems we face at the little red schoolhouse these modern, eight-cylinder days.

We have continuing troubles with one child in school. Now we are starting a new child. I do not know how long I can hold up.

The problem we are having now is getting this child INTO school. He is 4 years old. Naturally he is ready to master atomic physics.

He was supposed to go to the same school with his sister. But somehow the registration got mixed up. Now we don't know whether he gets in this year or not.

THIS HAS CAUSED an emotional crisis as though he had just been turned down by West Point. We have a deep interest in our school and I am practicing to be on the Fathers' Softball Team.

"He HAS to go to school with me!"

I do not see why. He will go to school like all the other mop-pets. And each September, you will have to drive him back in with a bayonet.

ANYWAY, SCHOOL is started again. And life, after eight o'clock in the morning, becomes peaceful. Quiet and sustaining.

... and as we leave these hallowed halls," said the valedictorian of my class — Cedric was his name; all straight A's. "As we leave these hallowed halls, we pause and reflect upon the joys ..."

I am still reflecting. In fact, Daddy-O, I never left.

EARL WILSON:

Go West-Side, Young Woman

NEW YORK — Gwen Vordon had just moved into a lushly-terrace penthouse high over Central Park West which in the good old days was William Randolph Hearst's and recently was Charles Van Doren's.

"Did you find any of Van Doren's old quiz questions?" I eagerly asked Gwen.

"No," answered Gwen, with a slight smile, "but I found out that he was so brilliant that every-day living escaped him."

To explain that, Gwen had to sit down. She had followed the modern admonition for apartment-hunters, "Go West Side, young woman, go West Side," and had been limping about in the moving mess—with one foot bandaged because a sprain had put her out of "Redhead" for a week.

"He did wiring which had to come out or I'd have been electrocuted," Gwen said, putting the bandaged foot up on a coffee table.

"Where he'd taken pictures down, he'd left open wiring. Even I know you're supposed to cover it up with tape."

But with a laugh, Gwen said maybe Van Doren hadn't done this himself, maybe it was somebody else who had meant to electrocute her — then she hobbled out onto the tremendous terrace where she would have built a Hollywood-type swimming pool in the sky, except that the weight of the water might have brought a cloudburst on a couple of hundred other tenants below.

The dedicated little dynamo who attained this luxury just by taking dancing lessons was showing it all off for the first time.

"I'm having an Italian tent here — and awning there—some trees will be moved in there ..."

Gwen looked over the terrace wall, down into Central Park itself. "I watched the 'Redhead' softball team play down there yesterday," she said. "And look at all those little penthouse roofs down there ..."

A man was sunning himself on a rooftop somewhere around 65th St. unaware that Gwen Vordon was looking at him.

After having been robbed twice while living on the East Side, Gwen feels she's going to be safe in her nest in the clouds over west.

Gwen'll be looked after by a devoted Negro maid who's so shy that she crawled out a window from a bedroom onto the terrace to avoid coming through the living room where I was there.

"I always have to tell my guests not to sit too long," Gwen said, "or she'll scrub them with a Brillo pad. She cleans everything!"

MIKE CONNOLLY:

Free-Falling 'Sheer Heaven'

HOLLYWOOD — Max Liebman will make a stab for the powerful spot he once held as TV's top producer, of the Sid Caesar-Imogene Coca shows of happy memory) via a one-shot one-hour U. S. Steel show Feb. 21. It's titled "The American Cowboy" and it sounds serious but it isn't.

Starring Fred MacMurray, it'll be an original musical comedy with a documentary slant tracing the origins and history and debunking some of the legends of the Old West's heroes and bad-men.

KATHY NOLAN'S bosses on The Real McCoys are boiling at their Kate McCoy because of what they describe as "foolhardiness that is detrimental to our show," although Kathy herself describes it to me as "sheer heaven!" She went "free-falling" from an airplane at Saugus, Calif., last Sunday with actors Jody and McCrea and Jim Franciscus.

"Free-falling" consists of jumping out of a plane at 3,000 feet, dropping 1,000 feet, and opening your parachute at 2,000 for the remainder of the descent.

Bosses: "Where's our show if the chute doesn't open?" Me: How do you know when you've fallen the first 1,000 feet?" Kathy's answer to both questions: "Who knows, who cares — all I know is it's SHEER HEAVEN!"

HEY GIRLS — GUESS who's starred for Pat Boone's first Chevy Show this season? Your ever-lovin' "Tiger," Fabian ... Boone, incidentally, is finishing "Journey to the Center of the Earth," his Fox film, and preparing the Chevy charivari simultaneously. I visited his set. He pointed out Alex Finlayson, who plays his professor of anatomy in the movie. "Know where he has the studio send his pay-checks? To his home, an undertaking parlor in Pasadena — he LIVES there!"

David Janssen reported back to Four Star after his summer stock "vacation" for his regular Richard Diamond series. The wardrobe department supplied him with the same black, three-button suit in which he started the show — to wear on his fourth season up. Ivy League job is still wearable too, albeit actor and suit have been dunked at Marineland, tossed downstairs and gone through three fires together for you TVviewers.

IN SYNE WITH THE Swingin' Set: Hugh (Wyatt Earp) hosted a housewrecking party at his pad — because he's having it re-padded. Hugh removed all the furniture, substituted cracker boxes and planks, set up six bars with liquor and food that wouldn't

"It's about to be chic over here," Gwen said. "When they get Lincoln St. built up ... The moneyed people always stayed over here — that's why they still have their money."

Gwen, referring to the lower rents, added: "Of course that whole kind of life you could have here, I can't ever have."

"Seven o'clock I'm always in the theater. It's impossible to go to dinner before that. I can never drink wine with dinner — and I love it. The only night I can live is Sunday — and they're closed that night."

Gwen bent over and sort of stirred up some awards, trophies, cups and plaques that she'd won. She pushed them around with her foot.

"I've never put them up," she admitted, guiltily.

"Did you know there used to be a gambling casino in another apartment here?" she asked suddenly. "One of my neighbors here has a lizard ... this wall paper was all solid gold leaf, and cost $80,000 ... the whole bedroom was imported from France ... I've got a bath with a chandelier, where I can entertain like Lady Mendel did."

Gwen's son Jimmy, 16, has gone to live with his father, Jim Henaghan, in California, and will soon be proceeding with his father to Japan.

"Japan will be good for him," Gwen thought. "He'll suddenly see children who have respect for their parents. Here, well, you're sort of a deadbeat if you're polite to your parents."

"These kids today are so casual — like a roomful of Fred Astaires."

So Gwen will be pretty much alone in the rumbling penthouse except for her guests. Does she maybe plan marriage, or is she maybe married? She and Bob Fosse, the director, will admit nothing.

Gwen'll be looked after by a devoted Negro maid who's so shy that she crawled out a window from a bedroom onto the terrace to avoid coming through the living room where I was there.

"I always have to tell my guests not to sit too long," Gwen said, "or she'll scrub them with a Brillo pad. She cleans everything!"

As K-Day Comes

WASHINGTON, D.C. —

"... we must bring down the thing called Liberalism, which is powerful but decadent; and salvage a thing called conservatism, which is weak but viable." — William F. Buckley, Jr. in "Up From Liberalism."

Nothing in our time has so pressed the thinking caps down upon American brows as this visit of Nikita Khrushchev.

AS COMPETITIVE events, you might name the atom-bombing of Hiroshima and the launching of the first Russian Sputnik. The mushroom cloud was captured by the Leftists, some of them traitors and some of them merely fools, as a symbol of American guilt; the explosion of which was to be de-nationalization of the USA and globalism.

The Russian "moon," shot into space, was a lucky break in that it shook up the country and caused it to perceive (what many of us had been calling attention to) that "progressivism" and education-for-everybody had raised up to be a generation of illiterates and slogan-singers.

BUT HIROSHIMA and Sputnik were high-brow events. Khrushchev's coming has the lowest common denominator of any comparable international incident of our time. Savants of the cocktail circuit discuss it with their taxi drivers, and the country club set is as much interested as the church groups.

For here comes the current leader of the World Revolution which began with the storming of the Bastille on July 14, 1789.

Khrushchev is the worker-peasant who tore up the Parisian paving blocks, who charged through the musket fire of the soldiery, who cut off the Queen's head, who turned atheist, who did a great deal to Share the Wealth but who, in Burke's famous phrase, brought death to the "age of chivalry."

IT IS NO WONDER if Khrushchev's coming to America as a State visitor did not startle the country which had a revolution as unlike the Franco-Russian orgy as anything could be. The USA got rid of King George III without killing him with his wife and family. Our Revolutionists managed to change Crown and Church for political and religious freedom without setting up any new dictators.

But with the Communist boss in Washington, New York, touring grandly from Atlantic to Pacific, lionized by our high and mighty, we know how the royal families in France and Russia must have felt as they looked out their windows at the mob. Make no mistake! The torch of revolution is at our door.

AND HOW DO WE defend ourselves, intellectually and politically? Until quite recently our defense was the cheap cynicism of, "When you can't beat 'em, join 'em." With the recognition of Russia in 1933, we started to "join 'em" by becoming, as Russia herself, "a Socialist Republic," a worker's paradise, a phase of the World Revolution into compulsion equality at home and no-nationalism abroad.

But some time since 1930, a wholesome change set in. We began to stop aping the Reds. Today, the American people have pulled the thinking cap determinedly down over one eye and commenced a reversal in earnest.

It is not insignificant, I think, that the most lopsided Democratic Congress in two decades chose the time between Khrushchev's invitation and arrival to pass the toughest Labor bill in history.

IT IS REMARKABLE that with Mr. Eisenhower's popularity at its crest, his decision to exchange visits with the top Communist is far from warmly acclaimed. Most important of all, it seems to me, we are beginning to hear public men hint at the possibility of "preventive war." This means that a spirit of Americanism Uber Alles is beginning to replace the puling worship of Peace At Any Price.

In the time of need, in the time of deepest contemplation, I take it that Americans are finding that the fundamentals of capitalism, nationalism and fight-we-must are pushing out their opposition numbers in the decadent creed called Liberalism.

Letters to the Editor

Editor of Palm Springs

The Desert Sun

I want to take this opportunity to thank you for the wonderful public service you have rendered in publishing the excellent articles by Lionel Steinberg on his Israel experiences. I have received numerous compliments and am very grateful that Palm Springs possesses a newspaper of the caliber of The Desert Sun.

Thanking you again for your kindness and past consideration, I remain

Sincerely yours,
Rabbi Joseph M. Hurwitz
Jewish Community Center

Editor of Palm Springs

The Desert Sun

Your editorial of Friday, Aug. 28, in the Desert Sun relative to the forthcoming bond elections was so entirely appropriate that I feel constrained to express my personal commendation. Not only were your comments well written but they also struck at the real heart of the issues involved.

We school people are keenly aware of the power of the press to assist us in the important work of education, or to make our work difficult through casual use of thoughtless reporting or editorializing.

The Junior College has special reason to thank you and your reporters for the generous treatment we have been given to date; but my concern in this letter is to be more inclusive in my expression of gratitude for your support of the Palm Springs bond election as well, because of the critical relation of this election to the welfare of the whole valley.

Sincerely yours,
Roy C. McColl
President, Coachella Valley Junior College District

Quotes From the News

BALTIMORE, Md. — Henry Hoernlein, 68, a zoo attendant who gave himself emergency first aid when bitten by a highly poisonous snake, crediting $100 worth of books on reptiles with saving his life.

"I got those books because I knew sooner or later I'd get bitten."

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah — AFL-CIO President George Meany, predicting that the striking United Steelworkers Union will win its wage demands and that other unions will win similar wage increases:

"On the victory of the Steelworkers is attained, the general mobilization of employer resistance against wage increases to workers in other industries will be broken."

CHICAGO — Stanley Lane, pondering the problems that beset him after he floated a sunken 20-ton ex-navy amphibian plane that originally cost him $38,000 and would cost another $20,000 to repair:

"I can't use it. I can't move it. I can't leave it where it is and I can't give it away."

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. — The Dalai Lama, asking the U. N. General Assembly to take up the Chinese Communist seizure of Tibet:

"The sufferings which my people are undergoing are beyond description and it is imperatively necessary that this wanton and ruthless murder of my people should be immediately brought to an end."

WASHINGTON — President Eisenhower, on the need for adult education:

"The man that plows a furrow in Dickerson County, or works on a Brooklyn dock, or drives a taxicab — when you begin to talk to him about the need for helping the people of Ghana, or of French Africa — well, he wonders what in the world you are talking about."

Then Edmund added a 3-cent tax. Now 25 plus 3 is 28. But you have to put in 30 cents to get results.

Since the vendors are making two extra cents above the tax, why couldn't they be nice and shoot forth a book of matches with every pack of cigarettes?

That's better than putting two pennies under the cellophane like they used to.

That you forgot and never received your change. It had rolled over the bureau.

HOWARD HADDOCK, Recreation Department superintendent, was with a foursome at the Ranch Club the other day. His group was held up frequently by the group ahead.

Finally Haddock got it. "Look," he said. "I know why that foursome ahead is so slow. There are five in that foursome."

Housewife in Action: Is The Star of American Exhibit in Moscow

By ALINE MOSEY
United Press International
MOSCOW (UPI) — For six weeks, Mrs. John Jacobs did the family wash, baked pies and had guests for dinner — all with more than 58,000 Russians looking on each day.

While Soviet citizens crowded around to poke, feel and ask questions, Mrs. Jacobs tried to live like an American housewife in an open-walled five-room apartment at the American Exhibition held recently in Moscow's Sokolniki Park.

Soviet newspapers claimed the show was disappointing because the Russians wanted to see only machinery. But this official line didn't jibe with the visitors who daily watched the Alexandria, Va., housewife scramble eggs and vacuum rugs as if she were a sensational new ballerina at the Bolshoi Ballet.

Mrs. Jacobs, an attractive brunette with a warm, homey personality, began her "performance" each day at 11 a.m. by dusting the living room furniture. Since tastes are different in this land of fringed lampshades, the Russians were quite critical of that room. Americans might have recognized the furniture as one of the most expensive modern makes. But to Russians it looked cheap — too simple and no shiny varnishy finish.

While I watched her go through her "act," two Russian women in the audience also commented the beige rugs were "too plain." They like the Oriental variety.

"Why a fireplace? Don't you have central heating?" another woman inquired. "Open bookcases are not good — books deteriorate that way unless they're under glass," another pointed out.

Next, Mrs. Jacobs demonstrated the built-in washing machine and dryer — by doing her own family laundry.

Mrs. Jacobs brought Kate, 6 months; Lucia, 2; Nell, 3, and John, Jr., 5, to Moscow with her, plus husband John, one of the Exhibition office executives. The children lived in their hotel room with a Russian nurse and babysitter.

She made the beds with colored sheets and an electric blanket which nearly brought down the house. As an encore, she let curious Russians feel the foam rubber pillows.

Carrying her small microphone around, the housewife opened drawers to show off women's nylon lingerie. Young girls lined up to feel the stiff crinoline petticoats which are a novelty to the Soviet Union.

The children's bedroom didn't go over so well. The Russian housewives didn't like the double-decker bunks — "dangerous for the child on top and no air for the one in the lower," they said firmly.

The tub in the bathroom was too small to many onlookers. They were "shocked," Mrs. Jacobs concluded after several conversations with her fans, because the toilet was not a separate room as in the Soviet Union.

But the kitchen was a marvel. One woman thought the wall oven was a television set. They watched eagerly when the American women used the electric can opener and dishwasher.

But though the apartment was a success, Mrs. Jacobs was the main attraction.

"They were more interested in talking than in any particular item," she told me. "Some days I got hecklers who asked about unemployment. Then I said, 'gentlemen, excuse me, but if you don't mind, we women want to look at this electric blanket.'"

"People wanted to know how I live, and how I learned Russian. I told them I was born in Bulgaria and went to the United States in 1933."

As a finale to the show, Mrs. Jacobs set the table in the tastefully furnished dining room with place mats ("what, no tablecloth?" the Russians asked) and candles ("don't you have electric lights?") Then she and one of the male guides sat down to eat.

"At first it was very difficult to eat," she said. "The first day one guide and I sat down as if for dinner — all we had was a gelatin dessert, cake and coffee."

"We thought the audience would go away when I stopped talking into the microphone. But the minute we took a sip of coffee, we looked around and saw hundreds of people. The guide choked and coffee spilled all over his shirt. We had to learn to eat looking at our plates, not at the people."

Auxiliary Planning for Active Year

Plans for an active year were divulged by President Louise Paul when Auxiliary to Frontier Post 5987 V.F.W. held its regular meeting Tuesday evening at the Post Home, 4995 Camino Parocela.

With the success of the dance party in August, another dance has been set for Saturday, September 26, at 8:30 p. m. and tickets at $1.50, including dance and refreshments, are now available from members of the Post and Auxiliary.

New member Norma Jean Lakor, a transferee from a Danville, Illinois, Auxiliary was welcomed into the organization.

The Auxiliary was reminded of the 22nd District meeting to be held tomorrow at the Chi Chi starting at noon with lunch and followed by the meeting at 1 p.m. Tickets for the luncheon will be available at the door.

Girl Scout Council Sets Training Dates

Desert Sky Girl Scout Council has set up a training calendar for leaders that started out with a class for Troop Organizers held yesterday morning at the Palm Springs Girl Scout House.

Next on the calendar is a workshop for board members on September 14 from 9:30 to 12 at the same place, with members asked to bring nosebag lunches.

Training classes for leaders are arranged for September 16 in District I, September 22 in District III and September 28 in District II. Senior Leaders will have training on September 23, 7:30 to 10 p.m. at the Palm Springs House. Registration is going on now for all these classes.

Ryans Home from Honolulu

Back at their home in the Deep Well Estates are the E. A. "Manny" Ryans and their grandson Spike, who spent three wonderful months in Honolulu.

Actually it was a combination pleasure and business trip as Ryan went over there to erect a motel for clients on the Island of Kauai, but this idea was abandoned after Hurricane Dot hit the island with tremendous force causing an estimated six million dollar damage. It was decided to build the motel elsewhere.

In Honolulu the Ryans visited their daughter, Spike's mother, the former Peggy Ryan and her husband Eddie Sherman who writes the column "Backstage" for the Honolulu Advertiser.

Ingemar Still Not Up There

By OSCAR FRALEY
United Press International
NEW YORK (UPI) — The third man in the ring today tarnished the son of Thor's reputation.
Ruby Goldstein, who raised Ingemar Johansson's hand as heavy-weight champion of the world last June and led a glassy-eyed Floyd Patterson back to his corner, criticized the Swedish slugger as a "sloppy puncher."

"We are going to have to wait a couple more fights to decide just how good a champion Johansson is and whether he will deserve the accolade of greatness," Goldstein declared.

BUT, SAID the little broken-nosed man off the lower East Side, a Jack Dempsey, a Joe Louis or a Rocky Marciano would have "completely flattened" Patterson if they had him in the anesthetized shape Johansson had him in that night in Yankee Stadium.

"It's terribly difficult to rate Johansson as a champion," Ruby explained. "So he knocked Patterson out with seven knockdowns in the third round. But actually, it was the first real round of the fight. Those first two rounds were nothing as they felt each other out. Then, as Patterson opened his gloves from that peek-a-boo defense, Johansson clouted him with the best punch of the fight."

"IT WAS," Goldstein added, "a terrific surprise. And Patterson never got over that first punch. Of the remaining six knockdowns, you might say that two of them were good. The other four knockdowns were the result of awkward punches for Johansson threw a lot of awkward and sloppy punches in his eagerness."

Dempsey, Louis or Marciano wouldn't have been "so eager," says Ruby, whose book, appropriately titled "The Third Man In The Ring," hits the bookshelves on Oct. 15.

"If they had Patterson in such a shape," he insists, "they would have sent over the shot which put him away for keeps."

GOLDSTEIN, who had "70-odd" fights himself in the pro ring, was the "third man" in the ring in title bouts involving Louis, Marciano, Jersey Joe Walcott and Ezzard Charles, as well as Patterson and Johansson, and it is evident in talking to him that he considers Louis the greatest of the lot.

"I referred to the Louis-Marciano bout," he recalls of the night that "the Rock" kayaked the once-mighty Brown Bomber. "It was a sad thing. Sure, Louis always was bothered by those low-crouching opponents but he always took care of them, as he did against Arturo Godoy, Tommy Farr and Tony Galento. Marciano would have given him trouble for a while, but in his prime he eventually would have taken Rocky."

Bears Score 4th Exhibition Win

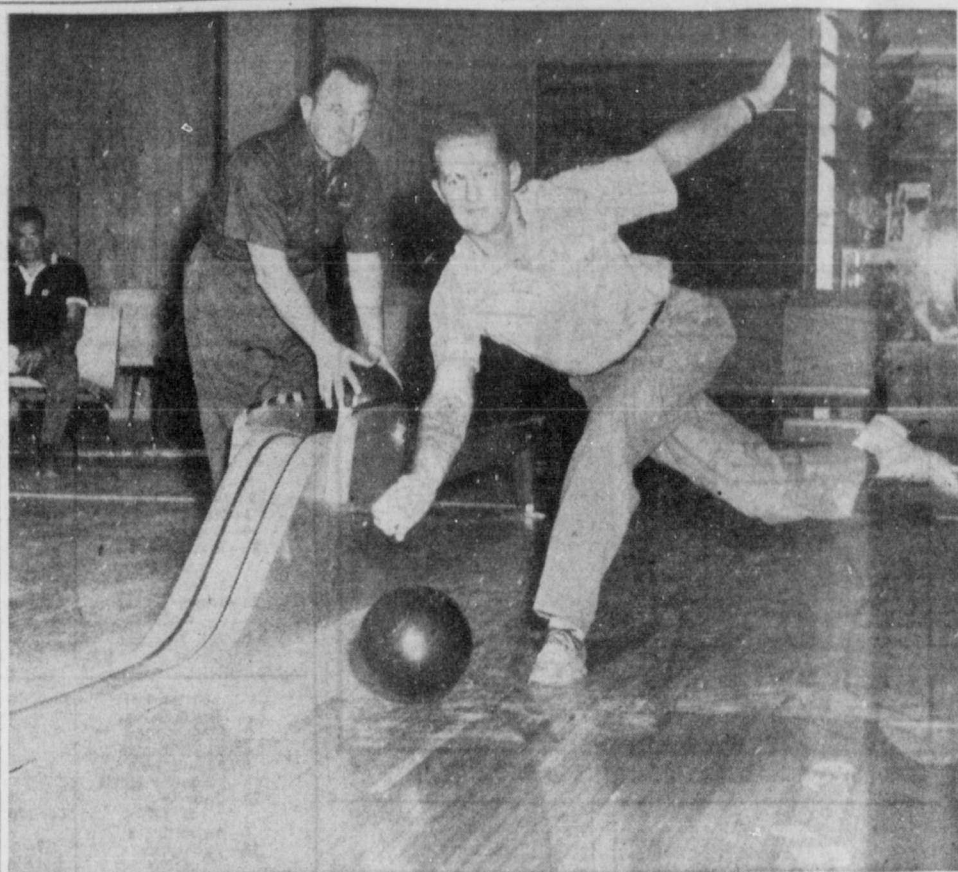

United Press International
Papa Bear George Hals keeps hollering "watch out for the Colts and Rams" but how about his Chicago Bears?

Runnersup last year in the National Football League's Eastern Division race, the Bears already are "champions" of the Eastern Division this year.
Friday night they made it four exhibition victories in a row over Eastern Division clubs when they beat the New York Giants, 18-6. The Pittsburgh Steelers scored early and late to whip the Chicago Cardinals, 21-13, in another game.

PALM SPRINGS OLDEST AND NEWEST bowling center—Palm Springs Bowl—has officially opened for individual and team play. The bowl, located at 378 North Palm Canyon Drive, is operated by the Marinko brothers and is managed by Bob Blaueit, who doubles as an instructor. The beau-

Winninger and Rosberg Lead by Stroke at Dallas

DALLAS, Tex. (UPI) — Bo Winninger, looking forward to a bear hunt and semi-retirement, and Bob Rosberg, the eager-beaver PGA champion looking for new golf worlds to conquer with his unorthodox swing, led the field by a stroke into the second round of the $25,000 Dallas Open golf tournament today.

Winninger and Rosberg earned their leadership Friday with three-under-par 67s over the cool and windy Oak Cliff Country Club's hilly layout, but they had plenty of hot competition pushing from the rear.

SEVEN PLAYERS were bunched only a stroke away at 68, four more at 69 and five others at par 70 just waiting for the front-runners to falter.

But, the pre-tournament favorites—Sam Snead and Ben Hogan—weren't among them because they had a hard time struggling to four-over-par 37-37-7as after blizzing regulation figures in practice.

The pudgy Rosberg, who is as familiar as Winninger with near-misses when it comes to rolling home first, had posted his 33-34-67 early in the afternoon and watched as player after player fired at it—and missed.

THEN, THE STOCKY, 36-year-old Winninger caught fire after a mediocre par 35 front round to birdie four of the next six holes and wind up with a 36-32-67.

Veterans Julius Boros, Marty Furgol and Dow Finsterwald and such newcomers as Bert Weaver of Beaumont, Tex., Retief Walters of Johannesburg, South Africa, Bill Collins of Provo, Utah, and Gay Brewer of Crystal River, Fla., were pushing the leaders to the harvest with two-under-par 68.

Olmedo, Fraser Face Killers in U.S. Net Semis

FOREST HILLS, N. Y. — (UPI) — It's the giants against the giant-killers today in the semi-finals of the U.S. tennis championships.

The giants are Wimbledon champ Alex Olmedo of Peru and second-seeded Neal Fraser, Australia's last remaining hope to beg the American crown for the fourth year in a row.

As giants figure to be, Olmedo was a strong favorite to knock over 22-year-old Ron Holmberg of Brooklyn and Fraser was an overwhelming choice to dispatch 31-year-old Bernard (Tut) Bartenzen of San Angelo, Tex., the U.S. clay courts king.

But Bartenzen and Holmberg, unseeded and generally unloved by U.S. Davis Cup officials, turned giant-killers. Friday with staggering upsets on wind swept courts at the West Side Tennis Club.

Bartenzen did a gleefully artistic 6-3, 6-4, 6-4 job on third-seeded Barry MacKay of Dayton, Ohio, and Holmberg pulled a four set shocker on fourth-seeded Rod Laver of Australia, 6-8, 7-5, 6-0, 6-0.

Four-Time Winner
FORT WORTH, Tex. (UPI) — Ben Hogan has won the Professional Golfer of the Year award four times, in 1948, 1950, 1951 and 1953.

Play Under Way at Palm Springs Bowl

The Marinko Brothers, whose names are synonymous with sports, have spared no expense to bring Palm Springs and Desert area residents the finest in a new bowling facility.

Palm Springs oldest and newest bowling center, completely refurnished, opened its doors for public play this week, and has combined the finest facilities available to bring local legklers a top bowling facility.

THE BUILDING, located at 378 North Palm Canyon Drive, was redesigned and built by Woodcraft of California, and has been done inside with V-joint Philippine mahogany. A new all-glass entrance, with special lighting effects done by Blotter Electric Company, opens the way for local players into a most modern bowling facility.

New equipment includes Brunswick telescopes and channels, tied in with AMF automatic pin spot-ters. A new bar has been built along the north wall of the center, and an entrance has been pushed into the Ham and Eggery Restaurant to allow easy access by Bowl patrons.

Marinko Brothers have also taken over the operation of the restaurant along with the Bowl, and it too has been completely refurnished.

THE COLOR SCHEME is done in soft colors to blend with the mahogany paneling and fixtures. Bob Blaueit, manager of the Bowl, is also the instructor and will set up hours for lessons in bowling, free.

And as the new Bowling center opens, scores of people are signing up for league play on the new lanes. "If anyone is interested in getting into league play, they can contact us and we will be able to fit them into a team," said Joe Marinko.

Ram Defense Faces Test in 49er Game

LOS ANGELES — (UPI) — The Los Angeles Rams and their rebuilt defensive line face a severe test tonight against the offense-minded San Francisco Forty Niners at the Coliseum.

Kickoff time is 8:15 p.m. with a crowd of about 60,000 expected for the first of three 1959 meetings between the traditional National Football League rivals.

Coach Sid Gillman's new look in defensive lines was unveiled last week in a losing effort against the Cleveland Browns. But it performed effectively in spots.

Leading that line was Lou Michaels, who was moved from left defensive end to left defensive tackle. Gillman indicated he would start there again tonight and might very well remain there all season.

LAMAR LUNDY turned in a solid game at Michael's old spot at right end and starts there tonight. Gene Brito is a fixture at right end and either John Baker or George Strugar will start at right tackle.

As for scoring punch, Gillman said he would start Billy Wade at quarterback, Ollie Matson and Jon Arnett at the halves and Joe Marconi at fullback.

Forty Niner coach Red Hickey said he, too, would juggle his line-up in an effort to beat the Rams. The Rams have not lost to San Francisco in the Coliseum since the pre-season game of 1955. Since then the Forty Niners have dropped six straight games in Los Angeles and eight of the last 10 games with the Rams.

VETERAN FIELD general Y.A. Tittle will start for the San Franciscans with Hugh McElhenny at left half and R. C. Owens at right half. J. D. Smith will fill in for Joe Perry at fullback. Perry is out with a sprained ankle.

Defensively, San Francisco will go with four rookies in their starting lineup—Charlie Krueger at left end, Bob Harrison of Oklahoma at middle linebacker, and a safety men Eddie Dove of Colorado and Dave Baker of Oklahoma.

Scheduled to boom from Sept. 30 through Oct. 4, the rich clay-bird classic will offer $5,000 in added money, a new Thunderbird and a $2,500 mink stole to a field that will include the top scatter-gunners of the United States and Canada.

Bird busting aces will fire at 800 Amateur Trapshooting association registered targets during the five-day tournament, which traditionally attracts several hundred competitors from throughout both countries.

Sponsored by Hotel Sahara, The Mint and the Lucky Strike club, the shoot is open to men, women, junior and sub-junior gunners registered with the ATA or with the Pacific Intermountain Trapshooting association.

L.A. Half Game Out In Tight NL Flag Chase

Twin Win Tightens Up Race

By MILTON RICHMAN
United Press International
You can talk about the sunset in San Francisco, but that Moon in Los Angeles sure beats 'em all. When the sun came up today, the Dodgers found themselves only a half game out of first place in the National League and the man they can thank is Wally Moon.

Moon smashed a pair of homers that helped the Dodgers defeat the Pirates, 5-4, in the opening game of a two-nighter Friday night and then cracked a three-run homer in a 4-0 nightcap victory.

The pair of victories brought the Dodgers' latest winning streak to five games and much too close for comfort to the faltering, first-place Giants, who lost to the Phillies, 1-0.

LOS ANGELES not only came from behind in the opener but also hung the first defeat of the season on relief ace Elroy Face, who had won 17 games in a row this season and 22 straight dating back to May 30th of last year.

Robin Roberts shut out the Giants on three hits in scoring his 14th win for the last-place Phillies. The lone run of the game came off Mike McCormick in the seventh inning when Harry Anderson singled home Joe Koppe from second base.

Milwaukee closed in to within a game of first place with a 10-2 victory over Cincinnati. Joey Jay held the Reds to four hits in pitching the Braves to their sixth straight triumph.

Bob Anderson won his 12th game for the Cubs by beating the Cardinals, 2-1, with a three-hit effort.

IN THE AMERICAN League, the Orioles swept a two-night double-header from the first-place White Sox, 3-0 and 1-0 in 16 innings; the Senators downed the Indians, 5-4; the Athletics ended a 13-game losing streak with an 8-6 victory over the Red Sox, and the Yankees topped the Tigers, 9-3.

The two losses whittled the White Sox' lead to four games, but even so their pennant-winning "magic number" was reduced to 10 by Cleveland's loss to Washington.

RED SCHOENDIENST, Milwaukee Braves infield star, side-lined for a year by tuberculosis, came back last week for his first 1959 appearance. He went in as a pinch hitter but it wasn't a story book thriller—he grounded out. The fans, in Milwaukee, and around the nation, gave him a big cheer for his courageous comeback. He'll be in action next year.

Fast All-Indian Baseball Team Here on Sunday

Palm Springs area baseball fans are in for a treat Sunday when the Coachella Valley Savings and Loan baseball team will host the Morongo Indian team of Banning at the Polo Grounds at 2 p.m.

The Banning club was runner up in the recent All-Indian tournament at Parker, Ariz., losing out in the finals to the Seaton nine.

The Runner-Up trophy they won in that event will be brought to Palm Springs and displayed at Sunday's game.

Jerry Delmont will be on the mound for the CVSL team and one of Palm Springs' favorites, LeRoy Segundo, ace pitcher for Palm Springs High School, will do the twirling for the Morongo team.

Second Pro Loop Seeks 2 Cities And Draft Policy

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif. — (UPI) — The nation's second pro football loop, the American League, gets down to brass tacks today at a meeting which will lay the groundwork for the new sports conference.

At the top of the agenda was the question of what system will be used in drafting college players. The outline of topics did not indicate what the new league's policy would be towards players presently in the National Football League but it was expected to be a question under discussion.

Also scheduled for action was selection of two other cities to complete an eight-club circuit. The cities listed as being in the running for the two open franchises are Seattle, Buffalo, New Orleans, Kansas City, St. Louis, Louisville and Miami.

MOST POPULAR OF ALL

Sees Giants, Sox Series as Natural

By HAL WOOD, United Press International

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — A World Series between the Chicago White Sox and the San Francisco Giants would be the most popular offering to the nation's public, in the opinion of Hollis Sloppy Thurston, scout for the White Sox.

Thurston, here to do a bit of spying on the Giants on the possibility that the two clubs would meet in the autumn classic, has a lot of reasons for his belief.

"First, you must remember that the White Sox haven't been in a World Series since that scandal of 1919—40 years ago," says Thurston. "And this is an exciting team."

"Next, San Francisco is new to major league fans around the country. And the Giants have a colorful club, too."

"PARTICULARLY," the millions watching on TV would be interested in getting a look at that great rookie, Willie McCovey.

"He has made so many headlines that all the country knows about and has been talking about him. But comparatively few have seen him in action."

"Then the Giants have Willie Mays, Johnny Antonelli and Sam Jones, to mention a few."

But, Thurston points out, the White Sox have color, too. "We have the greatest catcher in baseball in Sherm Lollar," said Thurston. "He has hit 20 homers this year and is a great man behind the plate, always has been. But he's been overshadowed in many years by Yogi Berra, of course."

THURSTON THINKS that it would be wonderful for the World Series fans to see the great Nellie Fox and Louis Aparicio in action

A's Sign Youths

KANSAS CITY — (UPI) — Richard Green of Yankton, S.D., and Frank Fencil of Berwyn, Ill., two outstanding high school athletes, have signed contracts with the Kansas City Athletics. Green, a shortstop will report to Sioux City, Iowa, next season, while Fencil, an outfielder, will go to Olean, N.Y.

'Substance' Topic For Christian Science Sermon

What is the true nature of substance, material energy or spiritual power? Are there spiritual laws and tangible realities which can be found and which will bring human, thought and experience closer to a practical daily understanding of the presence and power of God? The Lesson - Sermon on "Substance" in all Christian Science churches on Sunday goes into these questions and speaks of God and His laws as true substance.

The Golden Text which keynotes the sermon is from James (1:17), "Every good gift and every perfect gift is from above, and cometh down from the Father of lights, with whom is no variable shadow of turning."

"What is substance?" questions the first reference read from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy. The definition then follows, in part, "Substance is that which is eternal and incapable of discord and decay. Truth, Life, and Love are substance, as the Scriptures use this word in Hebrews: 'The substance of things hoped for, the evidence of things not seen' . . . The spiritual universe, including individual man, is a compound idea, reflecting the divine substance of Spirit" (p. 463).

Paul speaks in this vein in a correlative Bible passage from II Corinthians, where he declares, "We look not at the things which are seen, but at the things which are not seen: for the things which are seen are temporal; but the things which are not seen are eternal" (4:18).

ST. PAUL'S READIES THREE SERVICE FOR SUNDAY WORSHIP

St. Paul's in the Desert Episcopal Church will return to a three service schedule next Sunday, Dr. Frederick A. Barnhill, rector, announced today.

At 8 a.m. will be celebration of the Holy Communion, at 9 a.m. Holy Communion and sermon, and at 11 a.m. morning prayer and sermon. The sermon topic will be "We Have This Treasure."

The church school will start its new term at 9 a.m., Sunday. A special addition to the church school this year will be a class for fourth graders on Thursday afternoons at 3:30, to be taught by Dr. Barnhill. The lessons will be on the theme, "Right or Wrong?" and will include personal problems, Bible stories and a study of the Christian year. A small tuition charge will be made.

ANYONE FOR PALM TREES? You can claim one for yourself, if your license plate happens to be pictured in this week's edition of the weekly "Lucky Parker" contests. Each week, the Desert Sun's "Mystery Photographer" snaps photos of license plates of autos parked in Cameron Center. If your plate is presented here, then drive over to the Cameron Center office of George E. Cameron Jr. and claim your genuine potted palm. This is Cameron's way of making sure that plenty of palm trees are planted in Palm Springs. (Mystery Photographer Photo).

Arnold Speaks In CC on Sunday

CATHEDRAL CITY - Rev. James W. Arnold will present a sermon on "Life With Results" at the 9:30 a.m. Sunday worship service of Cathedral City Community Church.

Rev. Arnold also announced that Sunday Church school opens at 9:30 a.m. and nursery service will be provided for church goers.

'Commandments' Topic of Series

PALM DESERT - Rev. Warren McLean will start a new sermon series based on the Ten Commandments at the 11 a.m. Sunday worship services of Palm Desert Community Church.

Rev. McLean will talk on "No Other God" in the first part of a series entitled "Fundamentals of Faith."

THEY CAN'T USE IT YET, but "future adults" Tim Edmonds and Bob Feldman are apparently pretty interested in the development of the new Adult Recreation Center in Desert Hot Springs. Here, the youngsters view the freshly laid shuffleboard courts in front of the recently completed center building. The recreation center will be opened to the public next month, according to DHS Park and Recreation District officials. (Desert Sun Photo).

IKE PLEA FOR 'K': 'BE CONSTRUCTIVE'

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Eisenhower has made a new bid to Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev.

Come to Washington next week with "constructive ideas and suggestions" instead of "suspicion, threat or stubborn prejudice."

IN HIS RADIO-TV address to the nation Thursday night, the President said he approached his talks with the Soviet boss in "good manners and candor" and without weakness. He promised that "no principle or fundamental interest will be placed upon any auction block."

He urged Americans to receive Khrushchev with "courtesy and dignity." "The Soviet premier's visit," he said, would be "a thousandfold worthwhile" if it gave him "some real appreciation" of the spirit and conscience of America.

EISENHOWER'S speech set the stage for his historic series of meetings with Khrushchev which open in the White House next Tuesday afternoon.

The Chief Executive also reported

Tearful Ingrid Parts With Kids —For One Month

ROME (UPI) — Ingrid Bergman has parted tearfully from her three Italian children with an assurance that their father, Roberto Rossellini, will return them to her next month.

"We will be together in Paris again soon," the Swedish actress told Robertino, 9, and the twins, Isotta and Isabella, 6, when she left them Wednesday at their father's seaside villa in Santa Marinella, north of here.

All three of the youngsters were upset. Isotta burst into tears.

There had been sobs from Miss Bergman earlier Wednesday, hot tears of anger, bitterness and frustration when she left the court hearing where she agreed Rossellini could keep the children with him another month.

At County Fair

Crops, Resources To Be Featured

POMONA — Wealth and diversity of California's famed harvests and natural resources will be on parade in striking artistry at the Los Angeles County Fair in Pomona, September 18 through October 4.

Nearly 100 counties, communities and organizations from one end of the state to the other will have feature exhibits displayed in the huge Palace of Agriculture, each competing for the spotlight and $57,065 in cash awards. Here each will reveal abundance of the soil, industrial development, natural resources and recreational opportunities of their area.

PARTICIPATING counties include Alpine, El Dorado, Imperial, Inyo, Kern, Mono, Nevada, Orange, Placer, San Bernardino, San Diego, Santa Cruz, Sierra, Siskiyou, Shasta, Tuolumne and Los Angeles.

California's famed citrus will be displayed with the popular murals painted with fruit in wraps of many colors. Here, too, the state's multi-million dollar wine industry receives the attention it deserves. Other exhibit divisions include the apiculture, dairy products, ed on his recent trip to West Germany, Great Britain and France. He said Allied leaders varied in their estimates of how the Khrushchev talks would turn out but agreed that Eisenhower's newest effort to melt the cold war was "clearly one that had to be made."

"IT IS MY PROFOUND hope that some real progress will be forthcoming, even though no one would be so bold as to predict such an outcome," the President said.

"The choice before world leaders is momentous," he added. "Could we create an improved atmosphere of mutual understanding and serious purpose, it would be possible to attack, with renewed hope, the problems that divide us."

"IF THE CHAIRMAN of the council of ministers of the U.S. S. R. has constructive ideas and suggestions that could provide the basis for responsible negotiations on the issues that divide us, we would welcome the opportunity to study them with our Allies."

American officials hoped particularly that Khrushchev would arrive in Washington with some acceptable idea for resolving the Berlin crisis. They said this was uppermost in the President's mind when he invited "constructive" proposals from the Soviet leader.

Earl Coffman, Crocker Named Again to Board

Villagers Earl Coffman and Francis Crocker were named this week by Mayor Frank Bogert to the Mt. San Jacinto Winter Park Authority.

The appointments, which were approved by the council in a record vote, will go to Governor Edmund G. Brown for his approval. The terms of office for the Authority run for four years and will expire Sept. 19, 1963.

forestry and lumbering, minerals and petroleum. Distribution of life-giving Colorado water to Southland areas will be graphically illustrated.

THE PALACE of Agriculture, largest structure of its kind west of the Mississippi, contains 108,000 square feet of unobstructed floor space, has seven miles of fluorescent tube lighting, is air conditioned and has cold storage facilities for 30 tons of produce to replenish and freshen displays. Often called "the heart of the fair" this building has the distinction of receiving the largest percentage of visitors.

These feature exhibits are the result of community endeavor and represent weeks of contributed effort on the part of civic leaders. Competition is keen and judges are always hard put in placing the coveted blue ribbons.

Nikita's Visit To Southland Has Varied Fare

NIKITAS VISIT 30-3
WASHINGTON (UPI) — Here is the p.d.t. schedule for Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev's California visit:

September 19:
NOON — ARRIVES at Los Angeles International Airport from New York.

1 p. m. — Guest at a luncheon given by Eric Johnston, president of the Motion Picture Association of America, with Spyros P. Skouras, president of 20th Century Fox Film Corporation, at the 20th Century Fox Studios. Following the luncheon Khrushchev will visit a motion picture set in the studios, and then proceed to the Ambassador Hotel.

3:30 P.M. TO 6:30 P.M. — Makes a motor tour of points of interest in the Los Angeles area, then returns to the Ambassador Hotel.

7:30 p. m. — Guest at a dinner given by Mayor Norris Poulson of Los Angeles, the World Affairs Council of Los Angeles, and Town Hall in the Ambassador Hotel.

Sept. 20:
8:30 A. M. — DEPARTS from Union Station aboard a special Southern Pacific Coast Daylight train for San Francisco. Passes through Glendale, Santa Barbara, San Luis Obispo, Salinas, San Jose.

6:15 p. m. — Arrives San Francisco and drives to Hotel Mark Hopkins.

8 p. m. — Meets with a number of union presidents at the Hotel Mark Hopkins. Host: James B. Carey, president, International Union of Electrical, Radio and Machine Workers. The meeting will be held in the Golden Empire room and dinner will be served in the Argonaut room.

Sept. 21:
9:30 A. M. TO 11:30 A. M. — Makes a motor tour of points of interest in San Francisco, and a tour of the harbor by ship.

1 p. m. — Arrives at the International Business Machine computer plant, San Jose, and has luncheon in the employees' cafeteria.

2 p. m. — Visits the Stanford Research Institute, Menlo Park, then returns to the Hotel Mark Hopkins.

8 P. M. — GUEST at civic dinner given by Mayor George Christopher of San Francisco, the officers and trustees of the World Affairs Council of Northern California, and the Commonwealth Club, in the Garden Court of the Sheraton Palace Hotel.

Sept. 22:
9:30 a. m. — Departs from the San Francisco International Airport.

CANADIAN NUDISTS REALLY WANT '61 CONVENTION THERE

DEVORE (UPI) — The manager of a nudist camp here has accused Canadian nudists of resorting to unfair tactics in trying to snag the next nudist convention for their area.

Mel Hocker, manager of the Oakdale Guest Range, said the Canadians scribbled campaign slogans on the backs of fellow nudists as they undressed at a recent convention.

"While you were disrobing," he complained in a newsletter, "someone was inscribing in black crayon on your bare back, 'Canada in '61.'"

West Coast Eyed for U.S. Saline Plant

Salt Water Plant
May Be Erected
In Southland Area

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A special advisory committee prepared today to give Interior Secretary Fred A. Seaton its recommendation on a site for a West Coast saline water conversion plant.

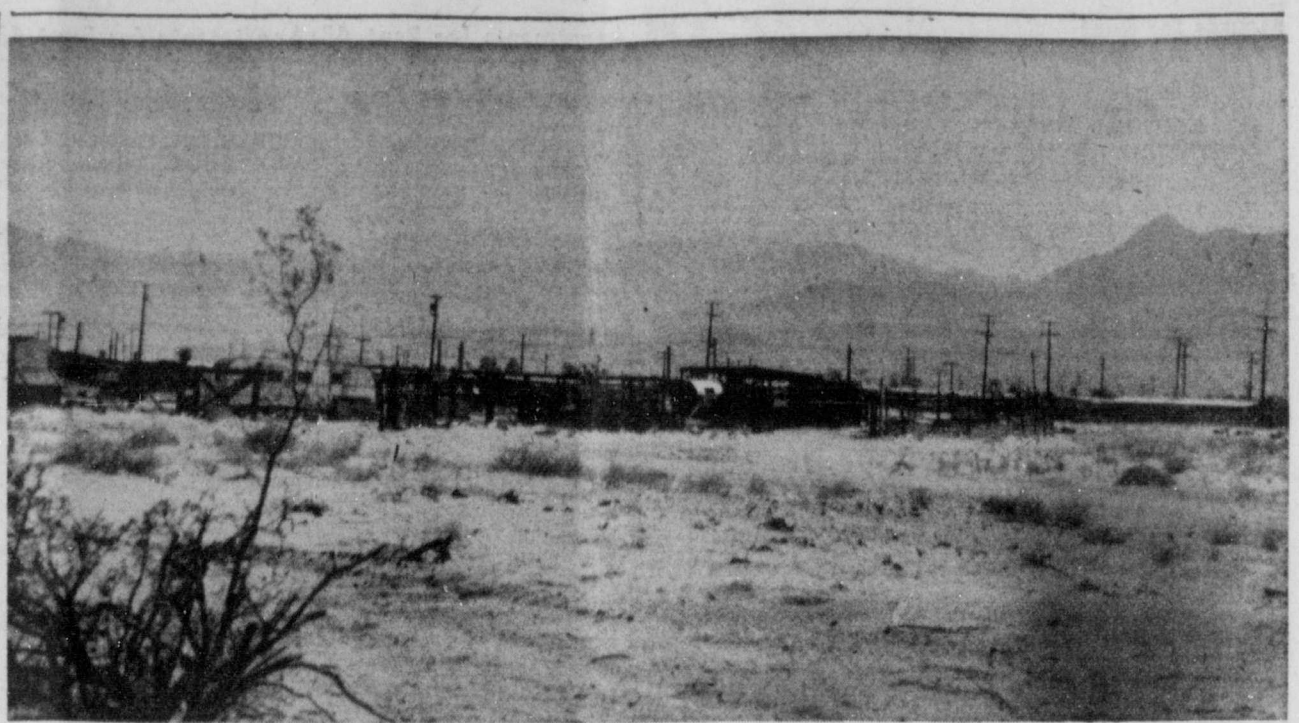

The plant is one of a series of "pilot plants" in which the government will convert salt and brackish water to fresh water.

INTERIOR DEPARTMENT officials would not disclose which site was recommended by the three-man committee headed by Sheppard Powell of Baltimore, Md.

No announcement will be made until Seaton makes the final selection, officials said.

THE DEPARTMENT had announced earlier that if it also could reach agreement with the Atomic Energy Commission on a site for the plant, the ABC would be asked to supply a low-temperature atomic reactor to power the installation.

Areas which had been under consideration for the West Coast plant included San Diego, Camp Pendleton, Ventura County, Monterey County and Lompoc.

TARGETED FOR CONSTRUCTION of a new elementary school next year is the circular center of the Country Club Estates subdivision which is expected to relieve congested conditions presently plaguing Cielo Vista School. Some students residing in the Cielo Vista area will attend Cahuilla School until this site is transformed into a school. (Desert Sun Photo).

Still No Clues In Desert Deaths

VICTORVILLE, Calif. (UPI) — The sheriff's office said today it remained without any substantial clues to the slayers of a man and woman found shot to death in the desert.

The couple was identified Thursday after three days of investigation as Richard L. Nowlan, 30, a state prison fugitive, and Patricia A. Skene, 26, known narcotics user. Both were from Los Angeles.

Identities were established through fingerprints and a confidential tip, said Sheriff Frank Bland. The bodies were found Tuesday in the desert about 16 miles north of here.

Birds and crocodiles are the closest living relatives of the dinosaurs that ruled the earth about 130 million years ago, according to the National Geographic Magazine.
